"Today it's not good enough for IT to just be part of Business strategy - IT is as intrinsic to success in the digital age as breathing."

This is particularly critical as businesses change and IT changes with them. You need an internal team, strategy and external IT partners that can support and even drive your organization to meet demands.

Sharpstone Group draws upon years of consulting across various industries and lessons learned to create a highly transparent and engaging relationship with our customers. It's through these closely designed relationships and conversations that we are able to provide targeted recommendations and services that meet strategic needs and unlock additional value for the business.

Software Design and Application Management

You know that on average only 13% of the features or capabilities of software are utilized regularly. Unfortunately you know it first hand. You have invested heavily in some of today's enterprise solutions... powerful, but maybe not delivering what you expected or was promised.

The Sharpstone Group can help you realize the maximum value of your IT investment. Our certified ServiceNow, IT infrastructure and app developers will unlock the power of your existing investment or help you implement the right solution correctly the first time. We know IT solutions can't exsist on a foundation of bad business processes that's why we take a holistic approach to all IT and business problems.

- What investment hasn't delivered what was promised?

- Are you looking for IT to solve your business process problems?

- What opportunities are being missed because your IT solution or vendor isn't providing the support you need?

Project & Product Management, AGILE

In your world of connected technology and business the need for effective project and product management has never been more critical. Ensuring the success of this year's vision will most likely rely on your ability to manage the integration of legacy systems with emerging technology. It will hinge on key decisions you will make to better leverage existing staff, get more from your vendors and improve overall as a team and as an organization.

The Sharpstone Group is ready to help you make those critical changes. We want to help you improve in ways that have the greatest impact.

- Do you have a new plan for your organization to achieve what couldn't be done last year?

- Have you maximized the value of your IT investment?

- Is there a transformation that needs to take place and who can help you get there fast?

Leadership Development and Transformation, Coaching

Bottom line profits come from highly engaged, motivated, and efficient teams. Great teams do not begin with the bottom line targets... they start with leadership's vision and top to bottom alignment with the strategy. The opportunity is not just "to improve" but to fully leverage resources of every type and at every level and that includes you. The investment you make to embrace and learn new methods, frameworks and skills translates directly to being better for your team and for your customers.

The Sharpstone Group's certified business and process coaches are here to guide you on that journey to be a more effective leader for your organization.

■ Can you identify opportunities in your organization that are contingent on a transformation?

■ Have you recently explored new ways of being a better leader?

■ What are the pains that you have in your organization that seem to be persistant and are never fully resolved?
